I think 1. stream reports for members only would be a good idea, mainly because it would address alot of concerns i have with thousands of people reading the reports. and 2. It is still possible to post small streams and such and pictures!! just leave out the name!!! If someone is curious and you want to share, PM it, heck word of mouth is one thing taking someone fishing to your spot is all on you, but putting a spot online for a few thousand to read very easily as Dkile has pointed out, is a bit of a different story.

When in doubt, don't name it, and PM it if you must!
