I mean, I'd love to contribute, but I'm certainly not gonna plan on doing it Saturday evening.

I probably won't even make it back to the campground till 10:30 at best. By the time I get the waders off and the equipment put away, it'll be at least 11:00 p.m. And then, the priority is socializing and drinking, not cooking.

This seems more suited to a mid-day thing, IMO. More likely that people will be around.

S'pose I could bring something pre-prepared, though. Chips & dip, or a sausage and cheese....
