

Subject: : Tips and Tricks

Topic: : Early Season BWO's

Re: Early Season BWO's

Author: : littlelehigh

Date: : 2012/2/12 11:23:37

URL:

1 more tid bit on tricos they are not black errrrrr I should say their body color darkens as the season progresses. I actually think it is a combination of sun light and possible sub species but no one else will believe that. But then again others swear tricos are never a size bigger nor smaller than a size 24. That may be true as well but fish eat size 20 imitations with no problem.

Anyway a BWO color early season trico works and a mahogany brown tears em up in August and everything in the color spectrum in between during mid summer.