

Subject: : Tips and Tricks

Topic: : Indicator placement

Re: Indicator placement

Author: : mushumatt

Date: : 2012/2/15 21:16:55

URL:

I start out with 1.5X the depth. But my target most times is to get the nymph to be ticking the bottom. Thats if im fishing a nymph and thats where the fish are feeding. So I will either raise or lower my indicator so i can accomplish this drift. But too much distance between your fly and indicator will cause you to not pickup on strikes. My opinion on most streams is too start out short then work your day down.