I'm sure leaky fuel, transmission, brake and other nasty chemicals that wash off the road ways are much more deleterious than NaCl.

That said, less salt of the roads can't really hurt.

So many things, I think, effect how the "hatch will be" this year that , while, like the lottery, it is fun to think about, it is equally "left to chance" what kind of year it will be for the QG's on &^%$ Creek/Run/Fork.
