much the same way he is doing it I just wouldn't publish a video of foul hooked fish. This is often the method undertaken on the Erie tribs when sight fishing. (minus the ultra light presentation and light line).

Lets face it, if you are sight fishing and the fish are right there and won't bite, you can be compelled to continue throwing at them over and over again. Thinking, I have to get closer.....then maybe a take, maybe a foul hook.

He stated that the fish were turning for nymphs so the object should be to run near but not over them. Hoping they move to take it. In fact this is what happened here in the video....but when the fish refused it appears it to get lined and hooked itself.

Just not a good choice for the climax of the video.
