

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Zebras

Re: Zebras

Author: : paparise

Date: : 2012/2/20 9:05:17

URL:

The zebra midge is why I started tying flies. I felt so ripped off when I would buy them for $1.50 when they were just black thread on a hook. I know people say you don't save money by tying your own flies but I tend to disagree. If you buy only select materials to tie specific flies you are definitely saving money. If you buy every material know to man to tie sporatic patterns here and there then you will not save money. I'm a little off topic here and I don't mean to derail the thread only to reinforce the fact that the zebra midge is one of my favorite flies for a multitude of reasons.