I subscribed to the angler for many years, and always looked forward to it's monthly arrival. However, when they combined it with the boating magazine, and cut it down to a bi-monthly, I let my subscription lapse. It just didn't seem to have many flyfishng articles anymore, and I really didn't have much interest in what was in it.

Last I knew, charlie meck was writing a fly tying piece for it. Is he still doing that?
