

Subject: : Tips and Tricks

Topic: : "Dapping the undercuts"

Re: "Dapping the undercuts"

Author: : klingy

Date: : 2012/3/5 17:44:37

URL:

When there aren't any hatches, or it isn't hopper time, that's pretty much my go-to method on Letort, etc. The clear water makes it especially fun. Seeing a monster slide out from a weed bed and wallop your fly - doesn't get much better than that! It seems like they reward you just enough to keep it interesting. I showed this method to a guy on the Letort once who didn't think there were any fish there because he didn't see anything. A 17" brown that materialized out of a the weeds changed his mind.