Just to clarify my assumptions. If he asked for rods such as White River, Dogwood Canyon or a Cabelaes rods or any other no name rod the assumptions would not have been justified. But one has to wonder why Orvis rods? If a couple years ago I came on the forum and said I was doing a fly tying class for kids and need any Whitting saddle hackles anyone could spare especially grizzly hackles what would the comments be? I guess the Marine in me still has a hard time trusting peoples good intentions.
