Let's give the gentleman the benefit of the doubt. He did ask for "used" also. Maybe the guy that fixes them for him only does Orvis. Maybe he is used to Orvis rods and feels comfortable teaching with them. He did mention he was trying to organize it with Orvis, so maybe he wants to show brand loyalty. Your assumptions are also possibilities but I guess I want to see the good in people first. Maybe its a generational thing too. Maybe I grew up in a much more trusting time.
