

Subject: : Swap Forum

Topic: : WTB Used or Broken Orvis Fly Rods

Re: WTB Used or Broken Orvis Fly Rods

Author: : 1wt

Date: : 2012/3/8 1:52:12

URL:

I think that Orvis is the best!

I've had several Orvis rods..... and I love all of them.

I purchased a Superfine 1wt for $575 but it came with a free $200 reel. I broke the rod four times, actually catching way too big fish, and the first two times they fixed for free and the last two times it cost me $30! No questions asked!

The fourth time I broke the 1wt rod, I called Orvis and got a upgrade to a Helios rod! I didn't think they would send me the old rod back, but they did! I sold it to a friend of mine on another site, in Chile, for more than the upgrade cost!

The last time Orvis sent me a whole new rod!!!

I think Orvis has the best equipment and the best warranty by far.

When I purchase something from Orvis, I e-mail late at night and the reps respond in a couple mins!!

But..... if you buy a broken rod, you won't get it fixed unless you purchased it yourself..... the computer keeps track of who bought it and when? You can't scam the system..... you will have to get the original buyer to have it fixed!