

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Windy Day Question

Re: Windy Day Question

Author: : outsider

Date: : 2012/3/12 20:31:49

URL:

2 more things that work for me:

Compensate for the wind by punching your forward cast if you are facing the wind, or your back cast if the wind is behind you.

And compensate for where the fly will land. i.e., aim a little upstream from your intended target if the wind is blowing downstream.