I camp a lot throughout the summer months and I always make chili in a a 4qt cast iron oven hung from a tripod over a fire. Ive never considered doing this at the JAM because im usually fishing til dark. I get back to the CG at 10. Eat a ham sammich, grab a sixer and head to the pavilion.

2 things I know to be true, 1. Bruno will leave your good alone because he usually has a steak at all hours he's not fishing and 2. Im eating whatever David brings.
