

Subject: : Stream Reports

Topic: : Valley Creek, Chester County, 3/19/2012

Re: Valley Creek, Chester County, 3/19/2012

Author: : JackM

Date: : 2012/3/20 6:51:21

URL:

Fellows:

Seriously. We asked that commentary on the "spot-burning" issue be kept from Stream Reports. We expected this to stop sniping and snarking whenever a favorite stream of some poster gets mentioned or glorified.

In exchange, I would like to ask that posters of stream reports not try to incite the very reactions we are trying to discourage. It seems some of the comments in this thread are intended in that way. If I misinterpreted, I apologize. But, if not, a word to the wise, as they say.

I know it is humor, but it is humor aimed at a topic we want to exclude from Stream Reports proper. Share that humor in another forum if that's the way you want to take your "report" thread.

And, I'm sorry to pick on you in making these comments, because it is happening elsewhere in Stream Reports and other forums, and I guess I'm just tired of having to "watch threads" and wanted to let the good people here know that regardless of what side of the issue you stand on, there is very little good that will come of constantly needing the opposition.