Not really focusing so much on Greenlander. More directed on the 20 fish a day guys on Valley. Maybe John Powers post is correct. The fish have gotten dumber in the past 2 years. My apologies to GL if he thought I was accusing him of lying. I'd rather chalk it up as a grumpy old man being frustrated after wading from the pedestrian bridge OTP up to the turnpike and then back down all the way to where Little Valley almost meets Valley and then back to the pedestrian bridge with nothing to show for it but sore feet.

No sweat whether you were focusing on me or not.

I don't think the fish have gotten dumber, I just think a few guys have certain things about that stream figured out. I can guarantee that if I had fished the same stretch of water I fished the day we were both there (and we fished mostly the same water), but fished it using different methods, that I would have walked away with little or nothing to show for it.
