Gary,

Dredging the bottom for stuff from the old days?!?

Back then Fredrick was a minnow.....now he's now a shark!!

BTW, I hooked up with Fredrick right after that post, and we've been friends and fished together ever since. I can't believe it's been 5 years already! That's one of the great things about this site.

Thxs for the info guys Afish is right we meet up together after I started this thread and he showed me the ropes and we have been friends ever since 🍷 Gary just brought up this thread to tease me a little because I am venturing into the world of comp fly fishing right now.
