There were three different kinds of caddis hatching, possibly four. Green, cinnamon, tan, and black body. I saw more green bodied below Palmerton. I then moved up river and saw black and tan and cinnamon. All different sized caddis as well. This is why we had such a hard time picking up fish. So many different kinds and sizes on the water all at once. Throw in spent caddis, hendericksons, and spinners. Just impossible to determine what exactly they wanted. Wt tried everything.
