

---

Subject: : Hatch and Entomology Forum

Topic: : Grannom

Re: Grannom

Author: : ryguyfi

Date: : 2012/4/6 14:47:42

URL:

I held my 14 up to a natural at Neshannock last Friday and it was MAYBE a hair too short. 16 is too small IMO. I think I have a few 12's in my box, but pretty much fish 14's.

I think once the fish get keyed in on the naturals, especially with a hatch of this proportion, then they start getting picky. Too large is an instant turn off, just right is always good, but sometimes a size too small will work just fine too.