Thanks for the insight. I was reading up and watching videos on you tube and they were suggesting 8 wraps.

no wonder my line was flying all over the place.

So when you pull the tag ends tight is snugs it up a bit to prevent slippage that when you pull the line ends it completes. I will keep playing with this i have to that were completed sucessfully and the other were the know but perpendicular to the line. I think i figured out what i did wrong with those however.
