I thought that the judge had 90 days to rule on this.

I'm pretty sure the trial ran from june 11 to june 15, so he should have ruled by now. I can't for the life of me understand why this is dragging out so long. This judge heard a week of testimony, had 90 days to think about it, and he still can't make a decision? Amazing!

How long would things take if this was a criminal case?
