

Subject: : Hatch and Entomology Forum

Topic: : My turn to ask! photos

Re: My turn to ask! photos

Author: : pcray1231

Date: : 2012/4/16 7:34:18

URL:

Definitely maccafertium genus. I'll also say it's March Brown/Grey Fox.

Slight correction on Chooch's scientific name:

Maccafertium vicarium

Stenenoma is no longer in any way associated with Grey Fox's. The Stenenoma genus still exists, but grey fox's were shown not to belong to this genus. Grey fox's and March Browns have been shown to be merely color variants of the same species, and this species is in the Maccafertium genus.