I had a blast Saturday working with the newbies and if guys still want more help I'd like to help out. My next available Saturday would not be until May 5th. I'll try to get Ed to roll out of bed earlier that day (assuming no OT the night before) and we'll get out again.

Anyone interested in another session on at the LL on Saturday, May 5th at 10AM?

The only cost for this session is that you pay it forward when you are no longer newbies and new newbies take your place!

Any experienced PAFF'ers that wish to attend, would be welcome too. These guys all have great questions and any info we can give them, they absorb like a sponge!
