

Subject: : Mayflys (Order: Ephemeroptera )

Topic: : Cream Cahill - Maccaffertium Interpunctatum

Re: One from last year

Author: : troutbert

Date: : 2012/4/18 7:45:06

URL:

Quote:

Chaz wrote:

Pink cahill(Epeorus Vitreus), however, I'm hedging my bets, because none of the suggested flies are usually as small as 8 to 10 mm. But Pink Cahill come closest.

It looks like an Epeorus vitreus (Pink Lady) to me too. I didn't go through the key, I'm just going on an off the cuff, looks like that to me type of "analysis." If anyone really does take it through the key, I'd be interested in what you come up with.