In Media, you'll get the front coming through tonight, starting, say, around midnight, plus or minus an hour. That could be more hit and miss, thunderstorm type. Maybe a quarter to a half inch. Ending around dawn.

Then you get a break before the big storm comes in. But for you, that'll start late afternoon tomorrow. It won't stop till midday Monday, just a hard, cold, steady rain with plenty of wind. Several inches total.
