Fished the Swatty yesterday. Smallies are out in force! With the lack of rain, water levels are very low. Temps were surprisingly warm for the time of year as well. Fished mostly WB's in size 6. Had the most luck with all white eztaz/hackle with a red collar. Caught about a dozen or so rock bass, and about 6 nice smallies. Left when the wind picked up around 6 or so. Suckers must be running as well, as I saw about 60 or so throughout the 2 1/2 hrs I fished. Smallmouths on a 6 weight is my new addiction. Tied about 2 dozen streamers this morning, and gonna work on some helgies and crawdads this evening.
