

Subject: : Hatch and Entomology Forum

Topic: : Question about a mayfly

Question about a mayfly

Author: : DaveS

Date: : 2012/4/25 6:53:21

URL:

OK those of you who are well versed in the bugs. Last weekend on Pine Creek during the Quill Gordon Summit, I saw some Mayflies tht were huge. Yes there were March Browns and I can recognize them pretty well. But in the afternoon, fishing upstream of Blackwell, there were flies that were easily the size of Green Drakes! 'cept they were brown. I tried to catch one but the wind was whippen' pretty good and the other JAMMERS were getting their fair share of fish, so I didn't want to get too outclassed in the fish department, so sorry no Photo. Looking thru "HATCHES II" I think it might be "Litobranhia recurvitia" or Dark Green Drake? Has anyone every seen this bug? Dang I wish I had a pic! Thanks in advance.