I like Ramcatts idea of having a select number of responses and then randomly selecting one of those. Kind of like a card raffle.

We had an outfitter once offer a free hat that way and it got a ton of attention.

Or you could secretly pick a number (say 15) and then say someone in the first 25 responses will win the raffle.....then #15 wins. Or even the #15th post....but you can't share the secret post number obviously.....or people will hedge like a caller into a radio station waiting for the 11th caller.

My brother is heading down to WVA to fish the last week of April...wonder if its at you place?
