

Subject: : Professional Stream Reports

Topic: : Little Juniata River - Sulphurs!!!

Little Juniata River - Sulphurs!!!

Author: : TDB

Date: : 2012/5/1 14:47:22

URL:

Central PA Report - Little Juniata River April 29th and 30th

TB ran a hike in trip on the Little Juniata River this past weekend and the crew was met with one of the best mid-day sulphur hatches ever. #14-#16 sulphur parachutes took fish all afternoon on Sunday. The system is in great shape this spring with the below average flows - wading options abound.

During the non-hatch periods, dozens of healthy browns and rainbows were taken on sulphur nymphs and varying pheasant tail patterns. With the temperatures on the rise, this week should be fantastic! Tight Lines

Additional info and pictures on the site at www.catchingchrome.com