Orvis has been good to me, worked for them..and there stuff is good too. I think they are better than loomis and sage with the rods.. some things seem a little high but remember they have always sold to the elight..remeber back in the day only the rich could afford to fly fish or wingshoot..The rest of us common folks shot or fish for food not sport..L.L.Bean was the common mans place to get or Percy's Flie's...So its imprinted in some peoples heads that Orvis is the Devil...
