Mike .....it's good 2 c u r still here. I have tried for almost a year now to find the TAP club you mentioned awhile ago and i have just about given up. Is it at the bottom of the dirt road that has the sign that says "Rifle Range" i fished the Wilmore Dam outflow and caught a few just last week , is that the north branch? If i could make arrangements to meet up with u out that way i will show u the easiest way to tie a blood knot you will never go back to doing it any other way or buying one of the many tools out there supposed to make it easy. For less than $20.00 u can put a kit together and tie your own leaders with ease , guaranteed. While fishing below the dam i ran into 2 local fellows who called that stream the "Little Conemaugh" is that the same stream? Get5 in touch. I ran into a fellow while fishing for steelhead in Erie who belonged to TAP and who said he knew you.
