

Subject: : Conservation

Topic: : Chicken Farm on Big Spring Creek

Re: Chicken Farm on Big Spring Creek

Author: : barbless

Date: : 2012/5/3 11:49:42

URL:

Yeah, you're right...I just went off. Discharging in the closest place handy, instead of finding targets worthy of my scorn. So I ended up ranting on a site full of the people who deserve it least. Some of the strongest allies out there.

And yes, how I do go on, sometimes.

To boil down my second message: I was putting out some thoughts on finding a way to permanently protect the entire Big Spring watershed against repeated assaults and insults. Including the notion that maybe a group effort could be made to just out and out buy the entire upper wellsprings and watershed, along the lines of a Nature Conservancy land trust thing. (Ebay has been good to me lately- I'd be in for four figures, as long as there's an organized effort for permanent protection by honest people who won't embezzle the money, who would return the escrow if it doesn't work out.)

by the way, any updates on the DEP decision?