while I don't own a pair, I did have the pleasure of borrowing a pair of Seal Skins once. They were better than the pair of neoprene gloves (with the top of the thumb and forefinger cut off) that i'd left at home. But I still use the neoprene ones. You have to look pretty hard to find ones that fit just right though. Anyway, I really liked those seal skin's gloves. I think he told me they were pretty pricy though if that matters.
