I agree 100 percent that the Tully is fishing great this year. Lots of rising fish. I took a guy I work with out the morning after guiding on the Tully and helped him to catch his first trout on a fly rod. He bought his spinning rod and threw hardware for about 20 minutes but when he realized that the fish wanted nothing to do with his offerings he switched over to the fly rod. He is already looking at buying a fly rod setup as well as waders and boots. He's hooked just like that! I now have another fishing partner as well. Good stuff!
