I have the Fishpond 360 and use it on my Waterdance waist pack. I needed something that would "swing" up to me in order for it to be long enough to use. Works great... and I trust it.

I have the Simms on my vest. Works fine... and I trust it too.

I have an older Orvis round zinger that still works. But I don't hang anything from it that I'm not willing to lose. Those things just suddenly break.
