

---

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : why all the hate?

Re: why all the hate?

Author: : tomgamber

Date: : 2008/4/2 10:49:57

URL:

Remember that Orvis is not just a big box, if you can even call it that...many smaller fly shops depend on Orvis product sales for their livelihood. The shop in downtown Greensburg and the one in Murrysville (both now closed) were Orvis shops. But also open now, are the one in Ligonier and the International Anger in Pittsburgh...They ar Orvis "authorized dealers" and being lised in every Orvis literature is pretty good advertising for a small business. The guy that fixes my chainsaw and lawn mower has a big Stihl sign out front and can be found by looking up "dealers near you" on stihl's web site...Its not like we're talking about Walmart...and they are made in the USA, right?