Ok sorry no pictures cause I am not allowed cameras or cellphones in work. I was outside and seen A mayfly today that completely befuddled me. It was a male definitely with big white eyes, a yellowish thorax, a clear-like abdomen with a brown tipped end, 2 tails with little pincer like things at the end and mottled wings. Unsure what it is but any help would be useful. Plus seen a couple large brown mayflies flying around as well couldn't catch one but also didn't want to look like an idiot on camera as well. Sorry I couldn't be more descriptive.
