

Subject: : Hatch and Entomology Forum

Topic: : Something's been bugging me...!

Re: Something's been bugging me...!

Author: : pcray1231

Date: : 2012/5/25 7:35:35

URL:

They are able to penetrate skin as nymphs. Easily. They have like a spear, I think they specialize in piercing beetle shells.

I've no clue how aggressive they are. But I certainly wouldn't put one on my skin!