Ultra selective trout. What do I do ?!

Today my and a couple of friends got our rears handed to us on selective trout. I have tried everything in my box...Literaly like 120 different fly/streamers out of the fly box. Last weekend the only thing that worked was a 20 elk hair caddis. Now they just laugh at that. These fish do get fished over some but not tons. They are rising on something just under the surface and at times jumping out of the water.

Any pointers before I go crazy at my tying vice. I have been fishing with flys for 3years now and this is the first real dry stretch I have gone through.

Thanks for input/advice.

These trout are int the oil creek area.
