Following Jack's soft hackle suggestion: I fished the LJ last week, there were no bugs hatching I could see. But I did see trout making splashy hits on the surface in the fast riffles at a head of a pool, this was Pretty fast water. I tried a few things, no success. Then I tied on a sz 18 soft hackle, cream colored, no weight, cast up into the fast water, and floated it in the film. They hit it aggressively. I caught 5 in about a half hour. Then the sun came out and action was over. So, float soft hackles in the film. It may work in your situation.
