Thanks much for the info guys. I did swing some soft hackles but I gotta wonder if they were wrong color or too large. I am not used to fishing such low water for trout. Usually when the water gets too low/warm I switch to smallies on french creek. I did get some action w smallie and big #4 streamer today.

Thanks board members for the input and suggestions....Time to hit the tying vice again. I have patterns for everything except for low water. Presentation seemed okay as the trout were intrested but they would inspect the fly then refuse to take. Sometimes the trout would inspect it for 3 or 4 seconds before refusing. It was an odd situation.

Thanks,
Greg
