

Subject: : Hatch and Entomology Forum

Topic: : anyone know this mayfly?

Re: anyone know this mayfly?

Author: : pcray1231

Date: : 2012/5/29 8:05:29

URL:

In the lower river, I'd not expect too much. Farther north, as you approach the Kinzua dam, they are very well liked by a lot of fish, including trout and smallies. They also come off many of the tributaries, some of which harbor wild trout.

They're typically close to drake time, maybe a week or so later on average. It's not a late summer thing.