

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : why all the hate?

Re: why all the hate?

Author: : TimMurphy

Date: : 2008/4/4 22:33:06

URL:

Quote:

JackM wrote:

I have only ever worn Orvis waders, except my neoprenes. My new waders are the Clearwater as I have resigned myself that waders are going to be a disposable item for me no matter what I spend and my first pair were Clearwaters and they were the most comfortable pair I've ever owned.

Dear Jack,

Talk about polishing a turd? I've fished with you a couple of times and never even noticed you were wearing waders. That Orvis stuff sure works magic! 🙄

I paid too much for my original Orvis Clearwaters. I suppose it's unfair to say that I paid too much because I paid what was at the time the going price for them. Shortly after I bought them Orvis lowered the price but even at $ 189.95 they were a bargain to me.

You aren't kidding about how comfortable they were, and I got 9 years out of my pair, and I didn't baby them.

Take that Simms! 🙄

Regards,

Tim Murphy 😊