Thanks for all the replies guys. I'm actually working on starting up my own fly fishing business and starting off with some lines. If you are interested in what's going on or what products I have just shoot me an email. I'm hoping to have everything up and running in the next few months!

RYGuy,

If that's the case, I would stick to nearly all WF lines (5wt is by far the best seller). Maybe carry a few DT5s or DT4s, but WFs are what most FFers want.

Good luck.
