Well you could have limited the number of non resident licenses to 0 3 or 4 years ago, but that doesn't stop stupid Pennsylvanians from spearding it. Probably every trib to the Delwarewill get it since it's all over the "D." To answer the question, Dyberry is not a tailwater, it's a freestone stream with a very good population of brook trout. It's easy to see that it would get didymo.
