

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Ok, finally looking for wading boots

Re: Ok, finally looking for wading boots

Author: : tyeager

Date: : 2012/6/12 12:45:49

URL:

I always had felt until my wife bought me a pair of orvis ultralights last year for my birthday, I think rubber sole with studs is the only way to go now.....walking through the woods is much easier and I see no difference in the grip i get instream.....it actually might be a little better with the studs

I would recommend any rubber studded boot but if you want to save money buy a plain rubber boot and check out an old topic on hatchmag.com about adding your own studs could save you $20 depending on what boot you get