Try Pline Japanese fluorocarbon, experiment with all their lines. Most are 10 bucks for 300 yards, but they do make a hydrofloat that I always wanted to try. It was a bit more pricey. Anyway, try 10, 6, 4lb constructions, with 12-16ft leaders. The problem is usually line slap anywhere near them. If they don't eat gnats and ants with long leaders, then either they see you, are shutting down from slap, or they aren't going to eat. My .02.
