Yes 70 is definitely the top. I prefer to only fish early mornings this time of year but early evening could be okay too, we just stay out of the middle of the day. Yes, thermometer is a must in June thru September.

Yeah .. think Ill head to Dicks in the next few and pick one up.

I read a few threads that certain types of streams stay much cooler than others in the hazy, hot days of summer and are fishable all day

What's the deal with that?

Within an hr of Philly, any direction .. what trout creeks/streams stay the coolest?
