Fox, not sure what you mean, things are a little foggy.....

Joy has mentioned doing a picnic down at the Little Lehigh sometime, so I'll run this by her and see how she feels about coming down early in the am. Might be nice to have this as a family event.

If we do, I have a portable gas grill that is fair sized and a canopy that we can bring down. We can go the route of bring your meat and grill when you want or we can chip in for burgers and dogs.

What time would you want to start fishing? Due to the 90 minute drive down, that could be the sticking point for having Joy with me. (She's not as fond of waking early as I am)

Looks like the 21st is a no-go for us. I have tickets to go see Steve Chapin and the other members of Harry Chapin's band at Droflinger that night.

The 14th is open as far as I know.

Dave, you know me, nothing has to be set in stone. I have no problem making it a family thing. I actually think that might be a great idea. I'm going to get there around 5:30 to fish but no one has to be as nutty as me. We can make a day of it, people come and go as they please. I think we have one guy bring burgers and another guy dogs, etc. Wives and kids optional but MORE than welcome.
