I fished the apple tree road launch section yesterday morning; from 1st light for about 3+ hours, until it got too sunny/hot. Only caught one small one, had several tugs on my line but couldn't hook em. Another local there was fishing lures and did the same, although the day before he caught some nice ones and had a lot of action. It's a good wading area. The water was really warm, don't have a temp though. It was my first time there.
